The diagram illustrates a search results page from an e-commerce website. At the top, there's a header bar with links for Catalogue, Browse, Search Box, Search, Create Account, and Sign In. Below the header, the page title 'Search Page' is displayed, followed by the search query 'Search results for 'Product Name''. Four product items are listed in a grid. Each item includes a placeholder image, the product name, a 5-star rating icon, the price '$ 40.00', and a blue 'Add to Cart' button. A green arrow on the left points to the first product. A red line on the right highlights the fourth product. A black box encloses the first three products.

ID	Name	Address	Phone #	Fax	E-mail	Active
1	Supplier1	Address1	221-2222	063-2222	supplier1@	Yes

Pagination controls at the bottom show "Prev 5 6 7 Next". A vertical orange line is positioned to the right of the content area. A blue line connects the "Orders" menu item to the "Version 0.1" text. A blue arrow points from the "Prezi" watermark to the "Version 0.1" text. A blue arrow also points from the "tely.com" watermark to the "Version 0.1" text.
